LUNCH WITH SPEAKER

Kate Torney CEO
State Library
Victoria

Kate Torney, State Library of Victoria Chief Executive, recent speaker at the Albert Coates Lunch, encouraged the audience to be advocates for libraries. She emphasised that to tell people about the many aspects of a library and its value to a community is important if we don't want to lose it. She cited the example of the United Kingdom where 40% of Libraries are closing. Ms Torney also commented on the digitisation of library material and said that libraries were redefining themselves to meet the needs of a digital age. The State Library is continuing to digitise its collection.

VALE WIN GHERARDIN

The following is an excerpt from the eulogy given by Dr Tony Gherardin.

'During the uncertainty of the time her father, Albert Coates was away during the war and following the Fall of Singapore was captive for three years, Win left school at 16 and enrolled at Stott's Business College. Skills she learned there she never forgot and in latter years she could take efficient shorthand. She volunteered at the Victorian Society for Crippled Children during this time and assisted at one of the large Servicemen's canteens.

However, Win was now able to pursue a dream she had wanted to do for some time, to become a nurse She commenced training at the Royal Melbourne Hospital in 1945, thus beginning her lifelong association with the hospital. Training involved long hours, and hard work, but the friendships of her nursing colleagues have stood the test of time. By 1950 Win was ready to take on the world. Like many post-war Aussies, Win boarded a ship to England. She worked for nursing agencies, stayed in share-flats, toured in Europe, came face to face with art, culture and a wide world,.....'.
